PSC Orders 17 1/2 Cent Minimum Gas Rate

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Acting to forestall any requests for general gas rate increases, the Arkansas Public Service Commission yesterday set a minimum price of 17 1/2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas sold to industrial consumers.

In a letter to the five gas distribution firms operating in the state, the PSC ordered them to boost the rates of all industrial customers to the minimum charge.

The 17 1/2 cents figure is the price which the PSC recently granted to Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. in approving a request for an increase that company's industrial rate.

"We do not believe any utility in Arkansas can furnish gas to its industrial users for less than this amount without jeopardizing the interests of its other customers," said the PSC letter.

PSC Chairman Lewis Robinson said the commission's primary interest is "to protect the price and future supply of gas for the benefit of the domestic and commercial users."

The 17 1/2 cent minimum charge "will best promote the welfare of the general public," said the chairman.

Robinson said one of the companies is charging only 15 cents per 1,000 cubic feet to one customer and that the concern couldn't possibly replace the gas at that price. He wouldn't identify the company.

In addition to Arkansas Louisiana, the gas distributors affected by the order are Arkansas Missouri Power Co., Arkansas Western Gas Co., Mid South Gas Co., and Fort Smith Gas Co.

Fire Destroys Negro School

FORREST CITY (AP) — Fire destroyed a 6-year-old Negro elementary school at Madison, 3 1/2 miles east of here, last night.

Supt. M. S. Smith said the building, valued at $65,000 when it was built in 1950, was almost a total loss. Fire Chief Leon Gaddy said he couldn't determine immediately the cause of the fire.

The 90 students who attended classes at the brick structure will finish the spring semester in classes held at churches in the area, Smith said.

Voters Saturday Will Decide Bond Issues, Millage Rates in Countywide School Vote

Voters in Hempstead County, at least a few, will go to the polls in various school districts Saturday, March 17, to select board members, and decide at least a couple of bond issues.

A rundown shows Patmos district has the lowest millage in the county with 27 mills while Blevins is highest with 37 mills. It should be pointed out that Patmos high school students are sent to Hope High School.

Two districts will vote on bond issues. Hope 1-A is seeking approval of a $125,000 issue for new construction which will run approximately 20 years. Spring Hill is proposing a bond issue of $15,730 to run approximately 18 years. The issue to be voted by districts:

Hope 1-A, Jim LaGrosz and Albert Graves seeking board posts. Voters will also vote on a total of 35 mills in taxes, 13 1/2 mills for operation and maintenance of schools, 1 1/2 for outstanding bonds and a continuing building tax fund of 2 mills for a proposed $125,000 bond issue.

Patmos School District: Gary Formby seeking board membership. Also up to the voters is a 27 mill tax of which 21 mills is for the schools and six mills for retirement of indebtedness.

Saratoga School District: Floyd Tollett is seeking a board post. Voters will also decide a 30 mill tax for maintenance and operation of schools.

Hempstead District No. 3: Seeking board memberships will be Doc Stewart and C. F. Walker. Voters will also decide on a 34 mill tax, 26 for operation and 8 mills for retirement of existing indebtedness.

Figures Way to Stop Office Girls From Gossiping Is to Paint Powder Room Bright Red

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Typewriter little:

May bosses complain that office girls waste time gossiping together in the powder room.

Interior designer Lee Kelly of Chicago has a solution to break up these feminine powwows: Paint the powder room a pure bright red.

Red is a stimulating color that induces restlessness," he says. "In a small room it can give occupants a feeling of claustrophobia. They'll have an urge to get out."

Kelly has a theory that a few buckets of paint can go a long way in improving office efficiency. He believes color can even be used to cut down on clock-watching.

Junior Play Is Full of 'Situations'

M. H. Peebles of Saratoga is seeking a five year term on the county board of education at large.

How would you feel if your secret diary got published in the town paper under a pen name, and you heard everyone wondering who that awful girl could be? Well, you'll find out Friday night in the Hope High School auditorium when the junior class presents "Tattle-tale," a three-act comedy by Anne Martens.

Only fifty cents will entitle adults to over two hours of entertainment Friday night beginning at 8 o'clock. Elementary, junior high, and senior high school students can see the Thursday and Friday matinees for twenty-five cents.

The story begins very innocently, to type the script of her new novel, asks Tod to borrow her one. Tod agrees and borrows the new typewriter from the school office, which they were going to return immediately; but the next thing they know, a detective is investigating the theft of the typewriter.

Patty then decides she must try to sneak the machine back into the office; but someone accidentally sat on it, and now she must buy a new one. Then the thought of selling her novel came to Patty, and it was not her fault that her diary was delivered to the newspaper office instead.

The diary shakes up the town like a major explosion because Patty tells all. Her sister is nearly humiliated to tears because it mentions that she is in love with the newspaper editor and is even busy making a quilt for her hope chest. Even the awful things Patty's father said about the school buildings and the way Mrs. Nixon spends all her husband's salary on hats are revealed in the diary. The Faculty Wives' Club is called the Pussy Cat Club in the little book.

Only Tod and Ida May, Patty's best friends, know she is the culprit; and try to cover up for her. Once they even have to begin singing very loudly to keep Patty from giving herself away.

Southwestern Counties' Tax Record Shown

LITTLE ROCK (Special) — As disclosed in a special dispatch to this newspaper Tuesday the report filed with the State Public Service Commission by a committee representing the Missouri-Arkansas Association of Tax Representatives shows Arkansas will pay taxes this year on real property which was assessed in 1955 at only 12.32 per cent of actual value—although PSC regulations call for a 20 per cent assessment.

The report by the two-state body, its sixth in as many years, revealed, however, that a downward trend in evidence ever since 1950 was checked with an upturn of one percentage point in 1955.

Following are the total statewide average percentage figures for all six years, and the urban property, rural property, and total assessment percentages for each of the southwestern Arkansas counties:

Walking Blood Bank Planned by the VFW

The local Veterans of Foreign Wars last night formally launched its community project for the year — a walking blood bank to serve in the event of emergencies.

Commander John Keck presided over the session, attended by some 35 to 40 members, all of whom were typed as members of the bank. Henry Fenwick is chairman of the bank.

Mr. Fenwick hopes to have 1,000 persons join the bank, which has the endorsement of medical men of Hempstead and both local hospitals. He emphasized that the walking blood bank is to be used only for emergencies.

It is the plan of the organization to have all members of the bank blood typed with a record kept by both hospitals. This would make some potential blood donor available at all times.

Details of the program are still in a formative stage and will be announced by the sponsoring VFW later.

Stores Offer Special Prices on Meats

By The Associated Press
Food stores this week again offer a big variety of meats at special prices. A widely featured item is St. Patrick's Day favorite—corned beef.

A number of big chains are also running pork specials. One retailer commented that his weekend pork prices were the lowest "in years and years."

Pork was higher on the wholesale market this week, however, and some rise can be expected on the retail level generally by next week.

Although many stores have reduced corned beef for the weekend, the price is still high in comparison with many other meats.

Industries Go to Court on Gas Rate Hike

LITTLE ROCK (Special) — A pre-trial conference has been scheduled for tomorrow by Judge Mitchell of Third Division Pulaski Circuit Court with attorneys for the state Public Service Commission, the Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co. and the latter's industrial customers who have filed appeals from the PSC order of November 3, 1955, granting $4,000,000 annually in Ark-La industry rate increases.

The appellants are: Aluminum Co. of America, Columbian Carbon Co., Monsanto Chemical Corp., International Paper Co., Corning Brick Co., Magnet Cove Barium Corp., Malvern Brick and Tile Co., National Lead Co. and the United States government.

Participating in the conference with the judge will be: PSC attorney John R. Thompson, Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co. counsel W. S. Mitchell, Edward L. Wright, both of Little Rock, and Robert Roberts Jr., Shreveport, and for the appellants, two lawyers representing the secretary of the Army and the executive agencies of the federal government; Reuben Goldberg, Washington, D. C.; Gordon E. Young, Pine Bluff; Harry Meek, Little Rock; Jeff Davis, El Dorado; J. E. Gaughan, Camden and M. McVey Oliver, Monroe, La.

Three appeals have been consolidated for trial. They ask that the court set aside the PSC's order which permits Ark-La Gas to charge as operating costs the estimated field price instead of production cost of producing gas from its own wells, and also to impose industrial rates yielding an annual return of eight per cent instead of the traditional six per cent.

The PSC's sanction of the field price charge for gas from Ark-La's wells followed recent rulings by the Federal Power Commission, but subsequently these were reversed by the federal Circuit Court of Appeals in Washington.

It was originally planned that Stephens would arrange for a spin-off of production, extraction and related gathering properties to a new subsidiary company, and then would transfer to Mississippi River Fuel all of its stock in the new company. This would have left Stephens in possession of the Ark-La Stock, and Mississippi River Fuel would have had the gas wells, extraction plants and gathering lines.

But the spin-off did not take place, and Stephens—which the SEC had exempted from the Holding Company Act's registration requirements—was notified January 27 that the SEC would look into the Ark-La situation again to determine whether the exemption should be continued. It was at the hearing February 20 that Stephens submitted for SEC inspection contracts with Union Securities, Mr. King's Mississippi

Many Ways to Quote Value of Ark. La. Stock

LITTLE ROCK (Special) — What price Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. stock, currently quite popular with Arkansas investors?

There's more than one correct answer. In January, when the stock was quoted at from $18.25 to $20.25 per share on the American Exchange, W. R. Stephens Investment Co., was letting a big block of it go for approximately $15.10 per share, which included a round million dollars that the purchasers paid the Mississippi River Fuel Corp.

January sales of Ark-La Stock recorded by the American Exchange totaled 316,000 shares. That was less than one-third of the number, 970,277, of shares which Stephens sold privately to Union Securities Corp., New York, and its president, J. H. King.

On paper, the sacrifice in price was $5,000,000 to $5,000,000—depending on which day's Exchange price is used for comparison.

Copies of contracts which the Stephens Company filed as exhibits with the federal Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington February 20 contain details of the transactions by which Stephens reduced the indebtedness incurred in the acquisition of 1,960,155 Ark-La shares late in 1954.

A 10 per cent stock dividend in December raised the number of Stephens-held shares to 2,156,170 and also increased the number sold to Union Securities and King to 970,277.

The per-share price recited in the contract is slightly above $12.60 but that did not take into account either the $1,000,000 paid to Mississippi River Fuel or the 10 per cent stock dividend which all shareholders received just before the end of the year.

The million dollars for Mississippi River Fuel was compensation for its co-operation, as guarantor of a $20,000,000 note and lender of $2,500,000, with $2,500,000 provided by Stephens, enabled the investment company to buy from Cities Service Co. 1,958,185—51 per cent—of Ark-La's 3,801,000 shares—of common stock at $12.50 per share in December, 1954. The stock was quoted on the American Exchange then at $11.25.

It was originally planned that Stephens would arrange for a spin-off of production, extraction and related gathering properties to a new subsidiary company, and then would transfer to Mississippi River Fuel all of its stock in the new company. This would have left Stephens in possession of the Ark-La Stock, and Mississippi River Fuel would have had the gas wells, extraction plants and gathering lines.

What about the boss who, whenever you ask him for a raise, always sees red — and leaves you feeling pretty blue?

Psychology has scored on another front. The police in Oklahoma City have chipped in and wired their headquarters for piped-in music.

It is believed to be the first police station to do this.

River Fuel and the First National City Bank of New York.

No decision has been rendered by the SEC.

Payment was made by Union Securities Corp., and King for the Ark-La stock in this fashion: For 887,777 shares (after the stock dividend) Union Securities paid Mississippi River Fuel $2,287,431.84 and King paid $212,568.16, plus interest, for the $2,500,000 note from Stephens which Mississippi River Fuel held; also Union Securities and King assumed principal and interest payments on $7,378,412.09 and $732,130.93, respectively, of the balance, $19,700,438.80, under the loan agreement with the First National City Bank of New York.

The bank loan which bears 3 1/4 per cent interest will be due December 14, 1956.

Onward and upward with the ladies note: Women today are buying one third of all sports equipment sold in America, as compared with only a tenth nine years ago.

"Women now buy half of all tennis balls and racquets and 65 per cent of the ice skates," said Irving Mages of Chicago, president of one of the nation's largest chains of sporting goods stores. "They also buy 25 per cent of the golf equipment sold, 35 per cent of the bowling equipment, 30 per cent of the fishing tackle, 15 per cent of the hunting gear."

"One thing we have learned is that many women go fishing alone. Hence the new demand for a lighter outboard motor they can handle by themselves."

"So far there hasn't been any calls for pink shotguns, and I hope there never will be. But many wives now are better at picking out sports equipment than their husbands."

Mages believes the new feminine interests in sports is an aftermath of World War II and the Korean War.

"Women became weary of those enforced separations," he said. "They no longer are willing to have their men go off on fishing and hunting trips without them. They want to share in all their activities."

"Some men may resent this, but most of them don't seem to."

Revival Services At BeBee.
Spring Revival services will begin officially at the 11 o'clock services Sunday morning, March 18, 1956, and will continue through Easter Sunday. The weekly night services will begin Monday night March 19, at 7:30. Pastor Stearns will do the preaching. The Book of Acts will be used as a basis for most of the Sermons delivered during the ten nights.

Much emphasis will be placed on Evangelism, with a team of personal workers making house to house calls daily. Three periods of Prayer meeting will be held each day at a time most convenient for people who are working. The first prayer period will begin at 8 o'clock each morning, beginning Monday morning. Rev. Stearns will arrange a prayer book near the altar of the church so that early workers and worshippers may stop by on their way to work and spend a few moments in prayer and write in the prayer book the time that they prayed.

A full and regular hour long prayer service will be held from 11 to 12 each day. The third period of prayer will be held at 6 p. m. each day, but this prayer period will be in different homes over the city.

One of the interesting features of this revival is that no offering will be taken during the ten days, no envelope will be given out for solicitation, or any other method will be used to raise money. A church official will stand at the door at the close of each service with an offering tray, and those who wish to contribute something for the support of the revival may do so. Fifty Self-Denial Polders were passed out several weeks ago to the BeBee membership and whatever the members deny themselves of during the forty days of Lent, will be turned in Easter Sunday morning for the support of the revival.

Saxton Given Title But Crowd, Basilio Disagree

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — Cruel-jabbing Johnny Saxton again held the world welterweight title today, but a hue and cry thundered for a rematch with dethroned and hopping mad Carmen Basilio. It may come in June.

Saxton won a unanimous 15-round decision over Basilio in a nationally televised scrap at the Chicago Stadium last night which left most of 1,373 paid patrons and a host of video fans hollering that Carmen was short-changed. Basilio bleated that the title was "stole" from him.

The International Boxing Club said no rematch had been contracted, but admitted that a net now was "definitely possible."

Seldom has a title match here stirred so much controversy, although there was no doubt in the minds of the three officials that the busy, ever-moving Saxton had won.

Basilio snarled that the deck is stacked against him in Chicago after three defeats in as many starts here.

The referee, Frank Gilmer, called it for Saxton 141-142, while Judge Ed Hintz voted for Johnny the BeBee C. M. E. Church.

The pastors have agreed to continue this fellowship service through this Conference year.

Last month, Rev. Stearns, Pastor of BeBee, and the members worshipped with Rev. Manning and the members of Mt. Zion.

The third Sunday night in each month, the two churches look forward to this Union service in an effort to increase the attendance and interest of the evening services. Rev. Manning will deliver the sermon, with services beginning at 7:30.

145-138 and Judge James McManus, 147-140. The AP had Saxton ahead 145-142.

On the other hand, a ringside poll showed 13-7 preference for Basilio among the experts covering the fight. Basilio's majority came entirely from Eastern writers, while Saxton's backing was all Mid-western.

Unquestionably, Basilio forced the pace, but the sledgehammer attack that won him the 148-pound crown from Tony DeMarco last June 10 and flattened DeMarco again in a Nov. 30 rematch was missing.

"They don't score double hooks here," growled Basilio.

On the other hand, Saxton was an effective if retreating sharpshooter. Using a stiff left jab with authority all the way, he smashed a nick over Basilio's right eye and had the champ's nose bleeding in the fourth.

Basilio's left eye was almost swollen shut by the 15th round after which Saxton walked to his corner, disdainful of Basilio's effort to slap his back and apparently knowing he had recaptured the 147-pound title.

"I won the fight," protested Basilio. "Hold and run, hold and run, that's all he did."

Saxton first won the welter crown with an equally-disputed 15-round decision over then champion Kid Gavilan at Philadelphia Oct. 20, 1954. He lost it in his first defense to DeMarco on a 14th-round TKO at Boston last April 1.

The principals split 3-30 on a net gate of $38,000 and radio-TV receipts of $50,000.

Saxton weighted 146 1/2 against 140 for Basilio.

SMU, Houston Meet Tonight in Playoff

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Oklahoma City and Southern Methodist look like the teams to beat in the western regional semifinals of the NCAA basketball playoffs here tomorrow night, and Kansas State and Houston could be the clubs to do just that.

The OCU Chiefs, making an unprecedented fifth straight tournament bid, take on Kansas State, Bit Seven conference champion, in the first game at 7:30 p.m. (CST). In the second game, at 9:30 p.m., Southern Methodist meets Houston.

Winner of the Saturday night windup will contend for the West championship at Evanston, Ill., March 22 with the far western representative.

Oklahoma City finished with an 18-6 record and walloped Memphis State 92-81 in a first round regional playoff game at Wichita, Tuesday night.

Also at Wichita, SMU has hard pressed to eliminate Texas Tech 68-67. The Mustangs represented the Southwest Conference and Tech the Border Conference.

Kansas State, with a 16-7 record, won its first Big Seven crown since 1951 when the Wildcats lost to Kentucky in the NCAA championship finals at Minneapolis. Oklahoma City is an "at large"

Parties For Jane Cook

Miss Jane Ann Cook, bride-elect of Don Hays of Prescott, was complimented with a luncheon in the County Club of Little Rock by Mrs. George C. Whitmore and Mrs. Otha A. Cook. She was presented with a corsage of pink sweetheart roses and a gift of silver.

The long dining table was covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink roses and snapdragons. Pink satin streamers, on which were placed tiny white bridal slippers, extended the length of the table on either side of the centerpiece, there were 15 guests.

On Thursday night Miss Cook was honored with a dessert bridge in the home of Miss Ann Brizzolara, who was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Aristo C. Brizzolara Sr. The tables were covered with white cloths of Italian cutwork and centered with arrangements of pink sweetheart roses and shasta daisies. Miss Cook received a corsage and a gift of silver.

Mrs. Blain G. Hays of Prescott, mother of the bridegroom-elect, was among the guests. Mrs. Carroll W. Stegall entertained on Saturday at luncheon at her home for Miss Cook.

The table was centered with an arrangement of white china swans holding pink carnations and white stock. The honoree received a corsage and a gift.

The dinner for the bridal party was given on Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Blain C. Hays, parents of the bridegroom in the Orleans Room at the Sam Peck Hotel in Little Rock.

The table was overlaid with a satin damask cloth and centered with an epergne filled with pink carnations, stock and candy tuft interspersed with pink bows flanked by white tapers in silver candelabra tied with pink mulline bows.

Jane Ann Cook
Becomes Bride of Don C. Hays

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James N. Cook, 4521 Kavanaugh Boulevard, Little Rock, was the scene at 2:30 Sunday afternoon of the marriage of their daughter Jane to Don Camp Hays, son of Mr. and Mrs. Blain G. Hays of Prescott.

Rev. Kenneth Shamblin, pastor of Pulaski Heights Methodist Church, read the vows, Mrs. Reese Saxon Price sang, accompanied by Mrs. R. D. Adams.

Tapers were lighted by Barbara

Jane Stegall, niece of the bride, who was dressed in gray dotted Swiss over yellow glazed cotton.

Mr. Cook gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown was fashioned of silk organza with deep scooped neckline and cap sleeves. Appliques of hand run Alencon lace edged the neckline and encircled the waist from which the lace extended the length of the skirt which swept to a chapel train. A coronet of pearlized orange blossoms held her fingertip veil.

Mrs. Carroll W. Stegall Jr. was her sister's matron of honor. Her waltz length frock was of petal pink chiffon over taffeta and had a V neckline and bouffant skirt. Her hat was of matching velvet leaves.

Mr. Hays served his son as best man.

Mrs. Cook chose a Dior blue peau de soie frock with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. For her son's wedding Mrs. Hays wore a shawl of roses sheath dress of moine silk faille with matching accessories and pinned a brown orchid at her shoulder.

After a reception the couple left for a honeymoon and later will be at home in Fort Smith where Mr. Hays is in the motel business.

Hollywood Hotel Showing Signs of Time

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Let's pay a visit to the old Hollywood Hotel. For 53 years, the hotel has been sitting quietly on the corner of Hollywood Boulevard and Highland Avenue, impervious to the passing of time. With its Spanish-style alabaster front and red-tiled roof, it is a throwback to a gentler era amid the tinsel and noise of Hollywood.
But progress has finally caught up with the Hollywood Hotel. It will be torn down starting May 1, to be replaced by an office building, rows of stores and a brand-new hotel.
We walk up the path, past the towering, top-heavy palms that sway in the March wind. Inside, we find the large lobby with yellowing paint on the bare walls. A few elderly people are seated on the overstuffed couches.
Behind the first desk is Leslie Jeffries, the gentle, gray-haired manager who speaks with a slight accent of his native England. He has been with the hotel for 14 years and doesn't conceal his sorrow at its closing.
"They say the new place will be a real attraction," he remarks. "But I can't help feeling that Hollywood will be losing one of its real landmarks."
The real tragedy, he says, is to the tenants. Eighty per cent of them are permanent guests, and some have lived there as long as 20 years. Most are widows; a few are retired show people like character actor Grant Mitchell and stage star Virginia Pearson.
"They just don't know where to go," says Jeffries. "They've put off making plans. It's a little dying; you know you have to go, but you keep hoping it won't happen."
He shows us some of the past glories of the Hollywood Hotel. There is the big dining room, closed since 1947. "It was brilliantly lighted with chandeliers; they like a lot of light," says Jeffries. "And there was always clean white tablecloths on the tables and shiny silver."
Now the chandeliers are hanging crazily, plaster has fallen from the ceilings and the hardwood floors have buckled from rain water. All that remains of the past glamor are the stars painted on the ceiling. On each star is printed a now-faded name. Jeffries explains that the players always sat at the tables under their names.
Some of the names that remain: Flora Finch, Thomas Meighan, Betty Elyth, Hobart Bosworth, Owen Moore, Viola Dana, H. B. Warner, J. J. Corbett.
Jeffries continues down one of the wide halls. He shows us a small music room, now used for civic meetings. The piano bears a brass plate reading: "To commemorate the playing by Carrie Jacobs Bond of her immortal songs in 1909."
The famed composer stayed there, the manager says, as did P. G. Wodehouse, Elinor Glyn,

Around the World

LONDON (UP) — Britain's tight new spending curbs brought its adverse trade balance in February to its most favorable point since May, 1953, the government announced today.
The board of trade said the closing of the gap between exports and imports was due in part to the normal drop in imports between January and February because of the short month of February and the closing of Canadian and European ports by ice.

MOSCOW (UP) — Western observers noted today the apparent start of a movement to eliminate all pictures and statues of the late Premier Josef Stalin from the Soviet Union.
The famous Tetyakov Picture Gallery here, the largest in Russia, has suddenly and silently removed every picture of Stalin.
The only sign of the premier seen by a nine-man delegation of American churchmen that visited the gallery was a bust which appears in the background of a painting of a wounded soldier.
Just a few months ago there were at least 25 portraits and other pictures of Stalin in many rooms of the gallery.

ABERDEEN, Scotland (UP) — Two Scottish businessmen announced today that they were negotiating to sell $400,000 worth of fishing worms a year to United States sources.
If the deal goes through, they said, it would make worms Scotland's third largest export to America, behind Scotch and woolens.

LONDON (UP) — The British Motor Corp., makers of the Austin and the Morris automobiles, announced a whopping 7 per cent price increase for the home market today.
The news leaked out before the midnight deadline, sending dealers rushing to buy cars at the old price.

BUENOS AIRES (UP) — An autopsy showed yesterday that a nandu—the native ostrich—died of complications caused by swallowing coins worth $10.35 and weighing four pounds.
The curator of the zoo ordered the hoard of coins distributed among the nandu's keepers.

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UP) — An American airman died last night as a result of injuries received in an airplane landing Saturday.

Nazimova and others. Rudolph Valentino was married to his second wife in the hotel he says. He shows us one of the rooms, which rents for $25 a week—"You don't see them this big in hotels any more." Then he returns down the wide staircase to the lobby—"Can you imagine the grand entrances they made on this?"
As we leave, Jeffries says: "The old place just couldn't pay for itself any more. We have only 125 rooms, and though it has been 80 per cent occupied, it isn't enough to keep up with the high taxes on the property. So the hotel will have to go. It's a shame."

Explanation of Trouble on Cyprus

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (UP) — This is an ABC on the British colony of Cyprus, where violence and demands for union with Greece are straining relations between three Western allies: Britain, Greece, Turkey.

This island, at the eastern end of the Mediterranean, is Britain's last stronghold in the Middle East, a base for air and ground troops. She has had to withdraw from all other strategic posts in the area.
Of Cyprus' 500,000 people, 400,000 are of Greek descent, 100,000 Turkish. The Greek Cypriots, led by their spiritual and political head, Archbishop Makarios of the Greek Orthodox Church, want self-government and eventual union with Greece.
The island, which is about 4 miles from Turkey and over 600 miles from Greece, has not been held by Greece, since very ancient times. The British have run it since 1878. The Greek government supports the Greek Cypriots' campaign.

The British refuse to get out. They have offered the Cypriots some measure of self-government but insist on handling its defense and foreign relations. Turkey backs Britain, knowing the Turkish Cypriots would be outnumbered four to one by the Greek Cypriots if the British withdrew.

Fifteen British soldiers have been killed on Cyprus since last September when the Greek Cypriots began to back their demands with terrorism. There have been riots in Greece against the British. It will have developed between Greeks and Turks. The Greek government has asked the United States to intervene.

In 1878, the British, by treaty with Turkey, took over the occupation and administration of Cyprus. Britain annexed it when she Kindley Air Force Base officials announced.

The victim was Airman 2-C Wallace D. Barton, Asheville, N. C. He was hurt when a U. S. KC97 plane veered off the runway while landing and plowed into a fire truck. Three other airmen were injured less seriously.

BUENOS AIRES (UP) — The health ministry reported last night that 141 new cases of infantile paralysis had been registered since last Friday, with 26 deaths.

BUENOS AIRES (UP) — Operations in the huge Buenos Aires port were crippled yesterday by a 24-hour waterfront strike of dock workers as a warning to employers who have ignored a demand for a daily minimum wage of $4.44.

MEXICO CITY (UP) — The first Japanese industrial fair ever held in Mexico opened yesterday. It features automobiles, diesel engines, sewing machines and heavy industrial machinery.

got into World War I against Turkey in 1914. Turkey recognized this annexation in the Treaty of Lausanne in 1923. And in 1925 Britain made Cyprus a colony, under a British governor.

The demands of the Greek Cypriots have grown increasingly bitter and violent. A terrorist organization, called the National Organization of Cypriot Fighters, is charged with the killing of the 15 British soldiers.

The British have made arrests and house-to-house searches. They have offered rewards of as much as $14,000 for information leading to the arrest of terrorists or the discovery of arms.

A week ago the British made their offer—some self-government for the Cypriots while Britain controlled defense and foreign affairs—to Archbishop Makarios, the toughest foe they had on Cyprus.

He held out for other concessions and refused to call off the violence. For example, he wanted pardons for political prisoners. Last Friday he announced he was going to Greece to talk to the government there.

The British seized him and several others as he was boarding a plane and said they were exiling him. They shipped him and his companions off to the Seychelles Islands in the Indian Ocean.

This brought more violence in Cyprus: shutdowns of business, a general strike, shootings. And on the mainland, Greeks responded with riots against the British.

Sees No Move to Cut Taxes for Individual

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today he knows of no move to add a cut in personal income taxes to a House-passed bill to extend present corporation income and excise rates.
There had been some talk that advocates of election year income tax relief might use this one-year extension bill as the vehicle for their effort.

But George said "I know of no one" who will make such a move and added that "I have no such plan myself." He said, "I do not want to tip the House bill in any way."

He said he regards it as important to get quick action on the measure to extend the corporation and excise taxes. Without such action, they would drop to pre-Korean War levels on April 1 costing the government three billion dollars in annual revenue.

George has said he hopes an income tax cut, perhaps through a $100 increase in individual exemptions, can be put through this session.
But he reiterated in an interview today he wants to see reports on the April 15 income tax collections before deciding what he might propose.

The House yesterday passed the extension bill 866-4, following the recommendation of President Eisenhower that no drop in excises or the corporation income tax rates at the 52 per cent level for another year until April 1, 1957, preventing a drop to 47 per cent. It also would continue for the next year present excise rates on liquor, gasoline, beer and wine, cigarettes, autos and trucks.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) of the tax-writing Finance Committee said his group will meet promptly on the measure, probably early next week. He said he expects only limited hearings.

A total of 445 new cases of measles sent the year's total to 2,055, compared with 699 cases at the same time last year.

of 256 cases was reported the previous week. Johnson county, the state with 118 new cases, followed by Washington county with 88. Lincoln county with 51. Greene and Boone counties with 21 each, and Sharp county with 20.
No new cases of polio were reported in Arkansas during the week.

Raps Churches for Buying TV, Radio Time

BY CHARLES WENGER
NEW YORK (AP)—A commission of the National Council of Churches in the U. S. A. has condemned the practice of buying or selling radio and television time for religious broadcasts. It also believes free time should be given to religious programs at peak evening hours.

The council is made up of Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches with a membership of 55 million. The action of its Broadcasting and Public Relations Committee for broadcasters and television stations is "a matter of principle," it says.

All four major networks—NBC, CBS, ABC and the Mutual Broadcasting System—now provide some free time to religious groups during Sunday daytime hours. ABC and Mutual also sell time for an over-all total of 17 religious programs. CBS and NBC always have opposed selling time to religious groups and individuals. CBS remains unalterable opposed to the idea.

But now NBC is polling its members stations to learn whether they would accept a carefully supervised TV program series by evangelist Billy Graham. A spokesman said the other day that NBC appears to be in a transitional stage in its view of the whole question.

One of the most peering remarks made on the matter since the commission adopted its resolution is that of George Crothers, CBS director of education and religious broadcasts, who said: "Fundamentally it's a matter of taste. When you mix religion with commercialism—with selling cars, refrigerators, soap and cigarettes, it gets hard to draw the line on what is good taste and what is bad taste."

This aptly expresses the viewpoint of the National Council's commission. For there are many million Americans to whom religious showmanship mixed with commercialism is downright offensive.

Yet by the standards of mass audience appeal these millions seem to be in a minority. A quiet, thoughtful talk about religious faith still commands a good audience in radio and television. But it cannot attract a large evening audience, against the competition of big entertainment programs all networks agree.

There is little likelihood that free time ever will be given for religious programs at peak viewing and listening hours. But there is the distinct probability that various religious groups and individuals will strive increasingly to present programs combining showmanship with a religious theme.

THE STORY: Mike Morrison, an American caught by the German invasion of Greece in 1951, has information for British Intelligence. The Nazis know Mike has this information and although the American has eluded them so far, they are busy tracking him down. Mike has taken refuge with a family in northern Greece, but is anxious to contact the underground in Athens.

CHAPTER XV

Christos' bald head and waxed mustache shone in the candlelight. He held his hands to his heart. "Jay, as I love you like a son, you should not leave."

"Be sensible, Christos. Another day—another two days—the Germans will burn Paleochora to the ground."

Christos spat on the floor and issued an oath against the Germans. "Even if you are gone we will never turn our backs on the Englezos. No I will not let you leave!"

Despite Christos' shady dealings, he was a Greek to the core.

"I have five million drachmas—take it," Mike said.

Christos grumbled under his breath. "Five million drachmas—50 million drachmas. You would think all Christos wants is money. If I had all the money I could carry in my boat, I could not buy a bag of wheat with it. I would give you my boat but it isn't fit to cross the sea. Besides, within one hour a patrol ship would find you. Besides, I do not know the lanes over the mine fields. . . . Besides. . . ."

"I'm not asking you to take me to North Africa. I only want to get to Athens—immediately."

Christos lit his huge bowler pipe. He stared at Mike calmly and spoke without the usual breast thumpings.

"My niece, Eleftheria, is a nice healthy girl, no?"

Mike grinned to himself. Now, at last, Christos would play out his hand. He agreed that Eleftheria was as healthy as a horse.

"You know, Jay, it is a custom in our country for a suitor to come to the father with a ring and the two to enter into a contract. I have a plot of land in Darnica, fine land, where my aged mother lives. I have a sizeable dowry for Eleftheria. If you were to return as her husband. . . ."

Mike shook his head. "I am married and I have two children."

Christos arose and clasped his hands behind him.

"Jay, my good friend, I tell you something. From the minute I take you on my boat in Nauplion, I say to myself, here is a man. I am now rich, although you may not agree with things I do. But every man wants this for his son. Melpo has not given me a son. Jay, I would like very much. . . ."

"I don't love her," Mike said.

"But! What are you talking about. She will have your children, she will make cloth for you, she will scrub your feet. Why you need love you Englezos are all crazy!"

Mike shook his head. Christos knew further argument was useless. With a look of hurt and sadness, he sighed and started from the room. "Very well. We sail for Athens at sunrise tomorrow."

"Jay! Wake up!" Mike rolled over and propped himself on an elbow. Christos, in long nightshirt and cap, with a candle in hand, stood over the bed.

"Eh—what's up?" Mike mumbled, half-asleep.

"A signal from the next village. German soldiers all over the area. They're heading for Paleochora."

Mike threw off the covers. "Go to the church, quickly!" Christos said.

Mike struggled into his clothes, checked his pistols and bolted through the door and worked his way toward the knoll. He sprinted through the door of the Church of the Prophet Elias.

Bluey was already there with three other escapees. They were half-dressed and crouched near the windows, shivering in the night air. Bluey's fists clenched a long rifle.

"I say we break for it now," Bluey whispered.

"Do what you please," Mike said. "I'm riding it out."

He sank into a sitting position with his back against the wall and rubbed his eyes. The empty church looked eerie in the flickering light of the candles burning at the altar at the opposite end.

Bluey grabbed Mike's shoulders and pointed out of the window. Mike's heart pounded as he heard dim, angry guttural commands drift up from the village. It was pitch black, impossible to see anything but the sounds. . . .

"Drowsy Greek voices—curt commands in German. . . . Sounds of motors, trucks rolling into the village. A rifle shot! Angry Greek voices! More rifle shots! The loud wailing of a woman. Mike could swear it was Melpo.

A form—a shadow outside. . . . Mike pointed and Bluey nodded in agreement as he lowered his rifle. The shadow moved unevenly up the path toward the church. The five men cowered against the wall, their weapons turned on the door. It burst open.

"Eleftheria!"

She stood there gasping, dressed only in a skirt and blouse thrown on hastily. Mike saw her face by the candlelight—twisted in terror. She was unable to speak.

"Christos," he said. He tore the rifle from Bluey's hands and ran for the door. The four other men

Seeks to Divorce Fifth Husband

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mystery writer Craig Rice, 47, has filed suit for divorce from her fifth husband, Paul Byron Bishop, 42.

Developments in Problem of Integration

By The Associated Press
A North-South debate in Congress, another U. S. Supreme Court order in the segregation field and the expulsion of a white Citizens Council leader from the University of Alabama highlight latest developments in the nation's complex racial situation.

Verbal fireworks were set off in the Senate yesterday when Sen. George (D-Ga.) formally presented a Southern manifesto, which he said had been carefully prepared by Southern leaders. It was signed by 19 senators and 81 House members from 11 states.

The document declared the high tribunal's decision on May 17, 1954, outlawing segregation in the public schools was "a clear abuse of judicial power" and it pledged the signers to do everything legally possible to overthrow the court's ruling.

The Supreme Court handed down another unanimous order on segregation. The court ruled that tax-supported universities must admit qualified Negroes to graduate schools without delay.

The court held in effect that it would not hesitate to call the State Legislature into special session if that "can improve our situation."

The University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa expelled Leonard R. Wilson, 20-year-old sophomore, for participation in the mob action against Auterine Lucy, the school's first Negro student. He also was accused of making false charges against university officials.

The Board of Trustees also suspended four students and handed out lesser and undisclosed punishment against 20 others. Their names were not made public.

Comedian, Leading Lady to Separate

NEW YORK (AP)—Comedian Sid Caesar is parting company with the leading lady of his television show for the second time in a little more than two years.

A statement yesterday said Caesar and Nanette Fabray were "sorry to announce that they have not been able to arrange for the continuance of Miss Fabray's association with Caesar's Hour beyond the present season ending in June."

In 1954 Caesar and Imogene Coca split up after both achieved top television ranking in the Show of Shows on NBC.

graduate schools are not subject to the transition period permitted in the decision ordering desegregation of public schools.

The action overturned a ruling of the Florida Supreme Court denying a Negro, Virgil D. Hawkins, admission of the law school of the all-white University of Florida. The court said that its edict for "all deliberate speed" for ending segregation in public schools "had no application to a case involving a Negro applying for admission to a state law school."

There was no immediate comment from University of Florida officials.

In the wake of the Supreme Court ruling, a small group of unidentified young men burned a cross seven feet high in front of the university's law school last night. A student bystander said those who ignited the blaze looked like underclassmen.

Gov. Leroy Collins pledged to do all possible to prevent integration and said he would not hesitate to call the State Legislature into special session if that "can improve our situation."

Suit to Void Tax Equality Contract Filed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two union county men today asked the Arkansas Supreme Court to nullify a state property tax equalization contract on grounds that it diverts tax funds collected for other purposes.

The suit was brought by J. H. Latham and Howard H. Horne, who described themselves as taxpayers in Union County's School District No. 2.

They contend that a contract between Union County Judge Frank Hudson and the Arkansas Appraisal Service Co., is "illegal and void" on grounds that it diverts tax funds collected for other purposes.

Under the Union County plan for equalization, 40 taxing agencies agreed to pay the appraisal company $125,000 in 20 monthly installments to compile records for use in the countywide reappraisal program.

County officials named in the complaint contended in Chancery Court that the plaintiffs did not state sufficient facts to constitute a cause of action. Chancellor R. W. Launius sustained the demurrer and granted an appeal.

In the suit, Horne and Latham asked that county officials be required to repay $6,250 spent for the first monthly installment to the firm. They also asked for a restraining order prohibiting further payments.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

All that would seem like thrill enough—but you'll find you've hardly scratched the surface.

You'll find yourself glowing all over from the sweet and level buoyancy of Buick's great new ride.

You'll feel a serene satisfaction from the way this trim beauty handles and corners and tracks to the road with the truest sense of direction yet.

And certainly you'll have to feel the good feeling that's yours just from bossing this big and brawny and beautifully sculptured automobile that's like a thing alive, and impeccably obedient.

We'd like you to know and feel all this firsthand—just by trying out a new Buick. That's all you do to join Buick's Thrill-A-Minute Club.

Why not become a member in good sitting today? And when you do, we have some big-thrill news on prices, too.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.
